HIGH SPEED IN SLOW MOTION

It all began with a brand new passion and a first Grand Prix on television, March 1st 1999, in the morning, to witness Eddie Irvine's maiden victory. Undeterred, this was followed by a first immersion into the loud world of F1 at Spa-Francorchamps in 2000, as a privileged spectator from the marshal post at Les Combes.

After writing articles to various french websites, I received my first accreditation for the 2010 pre-season tests in Barcelona, before walking through press rooms on several occasions. In 2021, after a period of hibernation... and that damn COVID, I returned to the tracks with a new toy in hand: a camera! The noise, the smells... the virus was back. This brings us to 2025 and the birth of BoxBoxBox.Agency, my photo agency specialised in motorsport!
